

A HIDDEN DANGER

It is a duty of the kidneys to rid the blood of uric acid, an irritating poison that is constantly forming inside.

When the kidneys fail, uric acid causes rheumatic attacks, headaches, dizziness, gravel, urinary troubles, weak eyes, dropsy or heart disease.

Doan's Kidney Pills help the kidneys fight off uric acid—bringing new strength to weak kidneys and relief from backache and urinary ills.

Following Orders.
Doctor (to Mrs. J., whose husband is very ill)—Has he had any lucid intervals?

Mrs. J.—"E's ad nothink except what you ordered, doctor.—Lippincott's."

Army Officer Mustn't Umpire.
It is found in the army that it will not do to let officers act as umpires in ball games and orders have been issued to forbid it. It seems that the players take advantage of the great American baseball player's right to abuse the umpire, and it is found that the umpire is an officer, when the players call him such names as "mutt," "bone-head," etc.

Quite So.
The little boy was greatly alarmed. "It's only a hollow pumpkin," explained his uncle.

"And it won't get me!"
"No; it's just a pumpkin with a candle in it."

"The idea of being scared by a jack-o'-lantern," jeered the boy's father.

"Never you mind, kid," said uncle. "Many a prominent statesman has been scared by less."

"Daughter," said the anxious father to the eldest daughter of a brood of seven, "your mother tells me that you have had a proposal."

"Yes, father, I have," demurely replied the young woman. "In fact, I have received several."

"I hear the ice man proposed to you?"

"He did."

"And you accepted him, of course?"

"I did not."

"Unwise child! Think of the money he could ever make!"

"The plumber also proposed."

"Ah! That is better. A man of untold wealth garnered every winter. Beyond doubt you told him 'yes!'"

"No, father."

"What-a-fo! Do you mean to tell me you let so golden an opportunity slip by ungrasped?"

"Yes, father. You see, I accepted a man who sells ice in summer and is a plumber in winter."

"Ah, daughter! Fly to my arms! You make me weep with pride!"

DREADED TO EAT.
A Quaker Couple's Experience.

How many persons dread to eat their meals, although actually hungry nearly all the time!

Nature never intended this should be so, for we are given a thing called appetite that should guide us as to what the system needs at any time and can digest.

But we get in a hurry, swallow our food very much as we shovel coal into the furnace, and our sense of appetite becomes unnatural and perverted. Then we eat the wrong kind of food or eat too much, and there you are—indigestion and its accompanying miseries.

WHO WILL BE SENATOR

DARK HORSE TALK HAS BEGUN AT NASHVILLE.

THE RACE IS AN ENIGMA

Struggle May Be Long Drawn Out. McConico, McMillin, Wright and Dickinson Mentioned as Possibilities.

NASHVILLE.

If a man, even though endowed with the gift of prophecy, should come to Nashville and attempt to forecast the result of the election of a United States senator, probably he would be stoned to death for his presumption. Each of the five or six candidates are manifesting a most creditable degree of composure. Whatever apprehensions they feel are not apparent on the surface, but there are reasons to believe that fears and doubts are beginning to assail some of them from within.

The candidates, with one or two exceptions, are willing for the fight to take place in the chamber of the house of representatives in joint session. Chances are, however, very much against the accomplishment of any such ideal desire. The election will probably take place in conference, and only the formality of the ratification will be exhibited for public inspection.

Col. L. D. Tyson, regular Democratic candidate, is willing that the nomination be left to a caucus of the Democratic members. His invitation to the other candidates to join him in a request for a caucus received a prompt declaration. Col. Enloe and others satisfied themselves with declining. Judge John Allison replied that a request for a caucus should come from the members of the legislature themselves. Therefore, if the regulars should ask for a caucus, Judge Allison would not be in an attitude to decline, but the other candidates stand uncommitted and uncommittable.

Tyson Regular's Favorite.
The breach between Judge Shields and Senator Lea appears to be genuine, and to the regulars extremely gratifying. The less Judge Shields has to do with Senator Lea the more highly will he be esteemed by the regular Democrats. Apparently this is one of their satisfactory reasons for supporting his candidacy.

Col. Tyson is, since the withdrawal of former Gov. Patterson from the race, the favorite of the regulars. But they are agreed that they will not be able to elect a candidate. Their only hope is that they may be instrumental in deciding between two candidates of independent persuasion.

K. D. McKellar is claiming the bulk of the regular strength and so is Judge Shields. Col. Enloe is looking to the independents and to the Republicans as his refuge.

There is an indication that if the fight should be narrowed down to Judge Shields and Col. Enloe, the Shelby county delegation would join the Enloe forces. The report that Judge Shields and Comptroller Dibble have allied their strength will probably result in the loss of the Shelby county vote to Judge Shields.

May Unite on McKellar.

It is claimed by the friends of Judge Shields that he will get a large Republican vote. There is no way of verifying the claim. Col. Enloe has been the only one of the independents to stand by Gov. Hooper in the time of need and when no one knew which way the cat would hop. Judge Bullock is his campaign manager and that has a peculiar significance in Tennessee politics. His political enemies and his political friends may disagree on him in every respect save one and that is the quality of his leadership.

The past relations of Mr. McKellar are standing him in good stead. He appears to be the one candidate against whom none but the Republicans are able to find fault.

Dark Horse Candidates.

Talk of dark horse candidates has already begun. K. T. McConico and former Gov. Benton McMillin head the list of a dozen or more who have been mentioned.

Gen. Luke E. Wright and Judge J. M. Dickinson, former secretary of war, are seriously discussed by those in authority as possibilities in the event the election should be prolonged and grow vexatious. No one is qualified to speak for them, neither has sought in any way to secure recognition, and this is said to their credit.

Just how long will be required for the election is uncertain. Each candidate expects to draw strength from the other, and all will be slow and exceedingly reluctant to withdraw. There is a possibility that the fusionists will be able to agree on a candidate without the permission and over the protest of the other, of course, and the agony by a less tortuous process. Forgetting for the time the personal claims and obligations owing to the candidates, it is hardly a sacrifice to wish that the bosses, if the members of the legislature themselves cannot agree on some man, might commit the work and name the senator.

8,970 Confederates Sleep in Illinois.
Chicago.—More than one-third of the Confederate soldiers who died on Northern soil are buried within the state of Illinois. The war department has just completed the task of marking the graves of the soldiers of the South who died in Northern prisons, and of the total of 35,000 of these graves, 8,970 are located in Illinois. Of these, 4,407 are in Chicago—the biggest Confederate cemetery on Northern soil. The other Illinois graves of the Confederate dead are at Alton, Springfield (Camp Butler), Rock Island and Mount City (Calro).

Philanthropist Dead.
Augusta, Ga.—Dr. L. Devere Warren, millionaire manufacturer and philanthropist of Bridgeport, Conn., died suddenly at his winter home here. Death came while his wife was reading the morning paper to him.

Moonshiner Is Killed.
Asheville, N. C.—Mack Moss, believed to be the leader of a gang of moonshiners, was killed in the mountains of Cherokee county in a clash between revenue officers and the outlaws.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Director of Evening Department, The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

LESSON FOR JANUARY 19

MANS' FIRST SIN.

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 1:1-11, 22-24. GOLDEN TEXT—"Every one that committeth sin is the bond servant of sin." John 8:34 R. V.

There are four natural divisions to this chapter in Genesis: I. The Temptation vv. 1-5; II. The Fall, vv. 6, 7; III. The Trial, vv. 8-13; IV. The Sentence, vv. 14-24.

I. The Temptation vv. 1-5. Environment certainly did not cause our parents in the garden, to fall. How long after the creation of man this event occurred no one knows. Was it a real serpent? Why not? Did not Adam name all the animals? It is no stretch of imagination to believe the tradition that he conversed with them till driven from the garden. True Milton and not Genesis says this was Satan, yet Milton had Scripture authority, Rev. 12:9. We are also taught that Satan can assume disguises, 2 Cor. 11:14, etc.

The point of attack was to question the word of God; this is always the open doorway to all sin. False theology always leads in the end to false conduct. God had forbidden to eat of but one tree, chapter 2:17, but here Satan takes a partial truth to make a lie. "Thou shalt not eat of the fruit of all the trees," v. 1 (R. V.). Eve did what Jesus did when he was tempted, replied with the words of God, vv. 2 and 3. But though she saw through Satan's misrepresentation, she made the colossal mistake of parleying. Gaining that much ground Satan goes a step further. It is not death she need be fearful of; God would rather prevent her becoming like himself hence the prohibition not to partake of the fruit of the tree.

Eve's Mistake.
"Thou eyes shall be opened," the woman saw. Human curiosity and a wrong ambition for a clearer knowledge have ever been fruitful sources of failure. Eve made the mistake of adding to God's words (2:17) and of allowing herself to see the one prohibition of the garden rather than the myriads of privileges.

II. The Fall, vv. 6, 7. The next step was but the entering wedge. The appeal was to the eyes, "It was a delight to the eyes," v. 6 (R. V.). "The look of it," see 1 John 2:16. When God gave command not to eat, he knew the danger of touching, 2 Cor. 6:17. There was of course a possible escape, 1 Cor. 10:13, even yet, but scarcely so. Eve had gone too far, hence she, and then Adam partook. The result was death (v. 19 and Rom. 5:12-14), but not immediate death. That sentence was carried out when Adam died. "In that day," rather, in his day, just as we speak of the days of Lincoln or Washington.

But physical death was not all. Death means separation. Adam and Eve were separated from God because of this disobedience. Death in every sense is the result of sin, Rom. 6:23 and came upon the entire race because of the sin of one man, Rom. 5:12 R. V. But Christ the second Adam brought back life 1 Cor. 15:22.

Adam's Fault.
Adam's fault was that he listened to his wife's persuasion (v. 17). Their desire for a present advantage, "become like God," overcame the fear of a future displeasure and illustrates the Hebrew word for sin, "missing the mark." Immediately their eyes were opened. What they saw now was not "desirable to look upon" and they made themselves girdles from the leaves of the fig trees. Man has ever since been seeking to cover his own shame.

III. The Trial vv. 8-13. Commit iniquity and human nature seeks concealment. Innocence never seeks cover. Sin makes cowards of us all. As the cool of the day approaches God walks in the garden. Of course he misses Adam and calls "Where art thou?" From that day on his call resounded but man heeds not the call. Sometimes the call comes in the cool quiet of the evening and sometimes the fierce blare of the tempests of life. Let us like Adam's answer. There is, however, no joy now in Adam's response v. 10, the joy of life is all gone once we yield to sin. Adam's confession is worthy of study e. g., that his fear arose from his nakedness. When will men realize that in the sight of God they are naked, and that no cloak of self righteousness, nor any other garment of man's philanthropy can cover his sin. Notice how each sought to pass responsibility on to another, Rom. 14:12. God, however, drew from each a statement of their own personal participation in this entire affair and judged each accordingly, Rom. 14:10.

IV. The Sentence vv. 14-24. Adam sought to throw the blame upon Eve and indirectly upon God who had given him Eve. No excuse but seeks to evade responsibility. We see, however, in the words of this section three great facts presented. First, the relation between the human race and the race of serpents. Everything that is evil, repulsive and vile is summarized in that phrase "that old serpent," Rev. 12:9. The trickery of a serpent, its venom, its senselessness, its resort to dark places, and man's natural instinct to kill a snake, all put together, is but a summary of the curse as recorded in verses 14 and 15.

Second, the everlasting conflict between man and the powers of evil. One reason we know this garden story is true is that it squares with our everyday experience. It is as true to life as the laws of mathematics. The power of sin, its appeal to pride, to lust, to ambition, to the pleasure of the eyes, to any and all of the emotions, and the counter pull of an outraged conscience are too vivid a reality in our lives to be denied. And lastly there is the prophecy of one who should conquer this power and bring all things subject to himself.

LOST BEAUTY OF WOMEN

Can be Remedied, in Many Instances, According to Statement of Mrs. Lucile McElroy.

Laurel, Miss.—In a letter from this place, Mrs. Lucile McElroy says: "I was sick for three years, with backache, headache, pains in my stomach and back, low down. At times I could not do a thing. I was so weak."

After I was married, I thought I would try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and after using two or three bottles, I couldn't tell one day from another—felt good all the time.

I not only still use Cardui, but advise every lady I think needs it, to give it a trial, and several whom I have persuaded, say they have obtained great relief.

Another good thing I have noticed about Cardui is that it fills out hollows under the eyes, which are sunken as if from a bad spell of sickness. It freshens up a woman's eyes, and makes them look bright and plump. Many a woman would be pretty if it were not for her sunken-in eyes.

I believe that Cardui, the woman's tonic, is the only treatment for women.

Do you suffer from womanly troubles? If so, give Cardui, the woman's tonic, a trial.

Judging from the experience of a million other women who have been benefited by this remedy, it should surely do you good.

N. B.—Write to: Chas. J. McElroy, M.D., 1001 Broadway, New York City, for full particulars on your case and to get your free trial bottle of Cardui.

Sanctimonious Penny.
Jerome S. McWade, the millionaire collector of Duluth, was appealing on the Mauretania for a seaman's fund.

"Let the collection be generous," he said. "We want none of the penny and quarter parable here."

A penny and a quarter, side by side in a pocket, fell into conversation.

"I'm worth 25 of you," said the quarter laughingly.

"That's true," replied the humble penny, "but in one respect, sir, I'm superior to yourself."

"Pshaw; how so?" said the quarter.

"I go to church, sir, far, far oftener than you," replied the penny.

If your appetite is not what it should be perhaps malaria is developing. It affects the whole system. OXIDINE will clear away the germs, rid you of malaria and generally improve your condition. Adv.

Took Load Off Mother's Mind.
Six-year-old Dora returned unusually early from school the other day. She rang the door bell. There was no answer. She rang again, a little longer. Still there was no response. A third time she pushed the button, long and hard. Nobody came to the door. Then she pressed her nose against the window screen and in a shrill voice, which carried to the ears of every neighbor on the block, called: "It's all right, mamma. I ain't the installment man!"

He's Not There.
Jimmy was sure he had something the matter with him, so he went to see the doctor. His pulse was felt, his tongue was examined, his heart was listened to, and his lungs were thumped. He seemed to be sound.

"Do you sleep nights?" asked the physician.

"Yes, but I don't enjoy my sleep."

"Ah, what disturbs you?"

"Nothing, except I don't get any good out of sleeping. I go to sleep the minute I hit the bed and the minute I'm awake I have to get up. How can a fellow enjoy his sleep when he doesn't know it?"

Suffer From Plague of Rats.
A "pied piper of Hamelin" is needed at Santa Paula, Cal. Thousands of rats, and all big wood rats, have invaded the place, and the situation is such that women are afraid to go to church. The rats seem to have a preference for churches and on several occasions have forced the feminine attendance at services to take to the high benches. The city authorities are seeking means to abate the pest. The rats are believed to have been driven out of the woods by recent fires in the forests.

BROKE OUT IN HEAT RASH

222 Georgia Ave., East Nashville, Tenn.—"My baby was born with two months old when he began to break out in small red pimples like heat rash, afterward turning into festers. They gradually spread until his little head, face, groins and chest, his head being most affected, became a mass of sores with a great deal of corruption. It became offensive and gradually grew worse. I kept a white cap on him to keep him from scratching. It seemed to itch so badly. It made him cross and his chest and groins would often bleed."

"Nothing seemed to help it, and I had almost come to the conclusion that my baby's case was hopeless, when hearing of the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, I decided to try it. I noticed at once that baby rested better. I continued it for a few weeks and my baby was entirely cured by the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. They cured where all others failed." (Signed) Mr. E. O. Davis, Nov. 28, 1912.

No Money. No Marriage.

"A fortune teller told me that you are going to marry me," said the young man with the prominent socks.

"Did she also tell you that you are going to inherit a very large fortune?" inquired the girl with the matted hair.

"She didn't say anything about a fortune."

"Then she is not much of a fortune-teller, and you had better not place any reliance in anything she says."—Washington Herald.

Invalid Men and Women

I will give you FREE a sample of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets that have brought health and happiness to thousands—also a book on any chronic disease requested.

During many years of practice I have used numerous combinations of curative medicines for liver ills. I have kept a record of the result in case after case, so that my staff of physicians and surgeons, at the Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., are able to diagnose and treat cases at a distance with uniform good results.

But for the permanent relief of blood disorders and impurities, I can recommend my "Golden Medical Discovery" a blood medicine without alcohol or other injurious ingredients.

Nature's Way Is The Best

Buried deep in our American forest we find bloodroot, queen's root, mandarin orange root, golden seal, Oregon grape root and cherry bark. Of these Dr. R. V. Pierce made a pure, chronic, active, and powerful medicine. He called it "GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY." This "Discovery" purifies the blood and tones up the stomach and the entire system in Nature's own way. It's just the tonic builder and tonic you require.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has the endorsement of many thousands that it has cured them of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heartburn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

"In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchitis, throat and lung affections, except consumption, the 'Golden Medical Discovery' is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on-coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The 'Discovery' is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate, chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken."
